When Christians disagree...

I recently came across a fascinating address by Revd Sam Wells, vicar of St Martin in the Field Trafalgar Square, to the recent Inclusive Church conference on the subject of how to cope when Christians disagree about important matters.

There are several areas this might happen of course. At the time of writing Brexit is the most obvious, but human sexuality is another matter not yet settled in the Church of England, or it might simply be about things that should or should not happen in the life of our local church that we feel strongly about. The human temptation that we see powerfully in our media is to shout ever louder in the (forlorn) hope that our opponent will eventually see that we are right, and change their mind.

For Christians, Wells suggests another route. He points out St Paul's powerful words in Philippians 3:20 'Our citizenship is in heaven'. What I find most helpful about this is the radical reminder that the most important thing is not about where we are coming from, or what group we'd like to align ourselves with, but rather where we are going! The chances are we will NEVER reconcile some of our passionately-held differences of opinion. But instead of constantly reminding ourselves of these differences we could try concentrating instead on where we are going – heaven – where there is more than enough love for all, more than enough joy and truth, and space for ALL to flourish, and where these differences will seem a world away.

That points us to the definition of the Church: a bunch of people who come from a great variety of different places, but are all heading for the same place.

Being a Christian transforms our identity. Please God, it stops us forcefully trying to insist that I am right and you are wrong, as we shift our focus instead onto the journey we're all making to the place none of us have yet been. The challenge for us is to love now as if we're already there. Acknowledging our differences, but allowing ourselves to be owned not by whatever group we might feel we want to belong to here on earth, but rather owned by our holy, good, reconciling, and loving God.

Revd Graham talks to Malcolm and Janice Brown

Music and construction are two clear passions have been with Malcolm Brown throughout his life. In both arenas Malcolm looks back on a remarkable career stretching over decades, and a lasting legacy too. Malcolm has been a church organist for 71 years, and his recently purchased Johannus Organ has pride of place in the lounge. I'm amazed at how authentic it sounds as he demonstrates the tones created by the various stops and pedals. Malcolm's warm smile spreads ever broader as he plays: "you have to glide across the keys, not hammer them". This is a man with a laugh and a smile to match his passion for music and zest for life, and I get the sense that this has not diminished over his 86 years.

Janice and Malcolm are relatively new faces at St Andrews Redruth, joining us from the local Methodist circuit not so long ago. Malcolm had been the organist at RMC for 52 years, and although Janice was there too for a while, she had been part of Forest and latterly Burhos Methodist Churches both till their closure. In fact, in joining St Andrews Redruth, for the first time in a very long time, Janice and Malcolm attend church together – a new situation which they both enjoy and intend to make the most of!

Malcolm trained as a Building Manager at E. Thomas and Co. Ltd Camborne Technical College. During National Service in the Royal Engineers, he was posted to CRE Nottingham as a Military Quantity Surveyor. He met Janice through joining a youth choir and his appointment as organist at Gedling Road Methodist Church. They married in August 1955 and moved back to Cornwall.

They settled in Four Lanes and Malcolm set to work. He was in charge of the construction of a number of schools for Cornwall County Council and was then project manager of the New County Hall at Truro. As a director of E Thomas and Co he was responsible for the redevelopment of the Aerodrome Buildings at Culdrose and, at the same time, accommodation buildings at HMS Drake in Plymouth for the Royal Navy. Each project was valued at £1.3million in 1969 to name a few contracts!

In 1963 Malcolm was appointed Organist and Choirmaster at Redruth Methodist Church and remained there for 52 years. He was a trustee, subsequently member of the church council, chairman of the property committee for 25 years, leader of the junior choir for 20 years with a maximum membership of 88 children ranging from 8 to 18 years. Malcolm was made a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Builders in 1980 following qualification as a Licentiate in 1958 and Associate in 1963. He had his own Limited Company with a Partner from 1985 till retirement in 1997 at the age of 67 years.

I'm urged to make sure I include Janice in their story, and theirs is very clearly a shared love of music, indeed, they are very much the double-act in so many areas of life! Janice, originally from Nottingham, is a very keen and accomplished singer, initially as a soprano and now latterly as contralto. As a soloist Janice performed in many oratorios, including the Messiah. For 23 years Malcolm and Janice travelled to Lanivet every Tuesday for practice with Celtic Chorale, a Methodist choir with members selected from all over Cornwall. Malcolm and Janice were also founder members of another choir, Cornwall Symphony Chorus, which has been going 10 years and continues today, headed up by well-known local musician Alistair Taylor.

Photographs of their children adorn the walls of Malcolm and Janice's home, alongside pictures of grandchildren in cap and gown and now great-grandchildren too. Malcolm beams, clearly taking as much pride in their achievements as his own, if not more.

ST STEPHEN TRELEIGH

Margaret Bray, a long time member of Treleigh congregation, and former hairdresser in Redruth, celebrated her 90th Birthday at home on August 20th. Many congratulations! She and her late husband Frank were a big part of Treleigh over many years. The day was spent chatting to old friends, reminiscing and sharing the utterly delicious Birthday cake made by a friend. She would like to thank her friends who either popped in, telephoned or sent cards.

A presentation was made to Anne Youlton on Sunday September 1st by Canon Eddie Woon in recognition of her 30 years service as Treleigh PCC Secretary. Eddie praised her hard work over the years, having worked with her both in that capacity and in more recent years as Churchwarden. Anne received a colourful orchid plant and a card signed by members of the congregation.

Fifteen members of Treleigh Ladies Group had a very enjoyable and eventful day in Padstow on September 3rd. The group surprised Anne and Melroy Youlton with flowers, chocolates and a card signed by all of them on the occasion of their 53rd Wedding Anniversary. Many congratulations! The weather was ideal for taking in the shops and views of Padstow; add to that coffee and lunch stops, good company and to round off the day coffee etc in The Plume of Feathers in Mitchell. Thanks from all the group to Mel for doing the driving.

The Harvest Service will be on Sunday 6th October at 11.15am. Harvest Gifts....Emphasis will be on non-perishable produce suitable to be given to FOODBANK after the Harvest, but also fruit baskets presented during the service will be gratefully accepted and will be distributed to members of the parish.

The Harvest supper will take place on Monday October 7th at 7pm. This will take the form of a pasty supper followed by a sale of produce. This promises to be the usual Harvest Supper fun evening and a great get-together. The evening will include a general knowledge quiz. To order your pasties, please contact Carol on 01209 216266.

Film Club

August's "surprise" film was Fisherman's Friends, based on a true story about Port Isaac's Fisherman's Friends, who were signed by Universal Records and achieved a top 10 hit with their debut album of traditional sea shanties. The Cornish accents were not bad and there were plenty of jokes about emmets!

September's film is Red Joan starring Judi Dench and is based on a novel written by Jennie Rooney. The film tells the story of a young Cambridge student who becomes involved with Communists and supplies the Soviet Union with nuclear secrets.

Film Club nights are always the last Friday of each month and is part of the CFylm scheme. Doors open at 6:30pm and the film starts at 7pm. Our next film night will be on Friday 27th September.

Curry Lunch

Many thanks to Mary Anson for hosting the Curry Lunch at Crossroads on Sunday 8th September. The food was delicious and many of us had seconds. It was a lovely afternoon of splendid food and company.

Harvest

Our Harvest Festival will take place on Sunday 6th October at 9:30am. There will be more details in the weekly prayer sheet about items to donate and to which organisations. The Harvest Supper and "Scarecrow" Beetle Drive will be on Saturday 12th October, starting at 7pm.

Book Fayre

We will be holding a Book Fayre on Saturday 12th October between 10am to 4pm in the church. The monthly Jumble Sale will also be held in the Hall at 2pm.

NEWS from 'Flapjack'

St. Andrew's Church Pencoys with Four Lanes United Methodist Church working, worshipping and praying together as 'One in Christ'

You are most welcome to visit the church, open daily, usually from 10 am to 5 pm

The LAMP First Sunday Evening Event held at the Methodist Church on 1st September led by Lucie Rogers featured St. Giles, Patron Saint of the Disabled, and 'Abilities', when we enjoyed a lovely game of 'Prayer Consequences', a delightful idea gleaned from the Lay Worship Leaders' Workshop at St. Euny Church in July. The event raised £80 for the charity SENSE for the deaf-blind, and our sincere thanks go to Lucie and everyone who came to support this event. To this sum were added the takings from our stall at the Four Lanes Village Fete the same afternoon, bringing the total to £120. We thank everyone who visited our stall, including Fr. Peter's original games with 'Lighthouse', which we are hopeful will result in more youngsters coming along to future events.

The next 'Lighthouse' will see the young people making scarecrows to celebrate Harvest, prior to the next Event, our Harvest Supper at the Methodist Church at 6 pm on Sunday, 6th October. This will be a bring-and-share supper, inviting all those attending to bring a small savoury item; desserts and drinks will be supplied, and we thank members of the Methodist Church for their hospitality in offering their church for this event, to which everyone is very welcome. Harvest gifts of canned and fresh produce, new small items of clothing and toiletries received at the morning Flapjack Harvest Holy Communion Service will be shared between St. Petroc's Society for the Homeless and Lorna's Drop-In Centre in Alma Place, Redruth, which our Benefice is actively supporting in its outreach ministry. Cash donations received at the Harvest Supper will also support the Drop-In Centre and everyone's prayers are requested for Lorna and her efforts to help those 'living on the edge' of our local community.

Our Children's Clothing Bank was launched on Saturday, 21st September, and the next will be held on 19th October in the Hall. We pray that this free facility will send a message of love to local families, as they strive to keep their growing children well clothed, especially amid rising prices and with winter on the horizon. Donations of good, clean pre-owned clothing are always welcome. Please keep this project in your prayers.

An advance notice for November – EVERYONE IS INVITED to join us for our Patronal Festival at 7pm on Friday 29th November, when Bishop Philip will celebrate Holy Communion on his first visit to St. Andrew's Pencoys and is looking forward to meeting us all. (In response to an enquiry about bringing his 'Cathedral' to Pencoys for the evening, thus turning our church into a Cathedral). Following the Service we shall enjoy a special Patronal Festival celebration cake, created by Doreen, our very own 'Master Chef'. It will be wonderful to see you if you can come. On the Saturday 30th November, there will be a Patronal Festival Quiz in the Hall at 7 pm, replacing the usual December Quiz.

Another pearl of wisdom from TBNUK: "God cannot fail to respond to our true, confident faith; we can never overdraw on our Faith Account in God's Bank".

ST EUNY

Open Cafe resumed after a short three week break on Thursday, 15 August. As Open Cafe was privileged to have been given an anonymous donation earlier in the year towards our work, from Thursday, 12 September for 6 weeks, some of this money is going towards tuition for the ukulele players and we look forward to welcoming the very talented Michaela Smith who will lead them. Thanks to Revd Graham for arranging this.

Since writing in the last Five Alive, we have hosted three weddings, which brings to a close our weddings at St Euny for this year.

On 7 September, we were delighted to host the marriage of Jemima Bush, daughter of our Rector, Revd Caspar Bush and his wife Alice, to Christopher Heath. The service was taken by Jemima's godfather, Revd Guy Donegan Cross, where he surprised the happy couple by performing a foot washing ceremony. The church and Lych Gate looked beautiful, adorned with flowers arranged by Alice and family, there was sunshine and it was a very happy family occasion.

The following day, which also brought lovely weather, saw us host the annual Mining Sunday service and pilgrimage, part of the Redruth International Mining and Pasty Festival, this year devised and led by Revd Graham Adamson. For the first time, Chris Symons and The Daylight Choir led the singing from Wheal Basset Stamps, Wheal Uny and lastly in St Euny church and were a great attribute to the event. A Scroll of Redruth designed by members of Miners Court in the town, under the guidance of Ruth Purdy of CIC, was displayed in church, together with photographs and other memorabilia. Thank you to Ruth and Revd Graham for arranging this. Pasties were supplied by Brays and Kays.

At our Harvest Festival Service on 6 October, we will again be collecting non-perishable items for CPR Foodbank. All donations gratefully received. Thank you.

Thanks to Fr Peter for organising and running an Eco Bible Study group commencing Monday, 23 September at 4.30pm at the home of Jane Selway, for 4 weeks. This will be another tick in the box towards St Euny Church achieving the Green Church Kernow Gold Award.

We have an amazing upcoming event at St Euny, so please do avail yourself and come along on Saturday, 12 October The Ingleheart Singers. £5 per person starting at 7.30pm.

ST ANDREW REDRUTH

In mid-September, as I write, we are planning a Creationtide renewal of our commitment to the values and activities of Green Church Kernow. In this season, both of the church year and the natural round, we are reflecting on the blessings, and responsibilities, we inherit as human beings in a world of such bounty and beauty. We are conscious, of course, of how much we all need to do to serve and conserve our environment, and although we have found our Green Church 'pathway' useful as a guide, now we are entering into a new phase.

Initially we 'crossed off' each new target until we reached our Gold award, learning along the way how each and all of us could help our world. Now though we see being environmentally aware as part of our church 'DNA', considering our impact in all we do. A small but pleasurable feature of church life is the appearance of surplus home-grown vegetables that appear each week. These are laid at the base of the font for others to share. It's a lovely, gentle way of celebrating our harvests together and avoiding waste.

One coming 'green' event is our contribution to the National Fun Palace scheme which opens up important buildings for community creative fun exploring art and science. There are five different buildings taking part in Redruth from the Buttermarket to Krowji and each has a different theme. Our own Fun Palace is 'The Lean, Green Recycling Machine' offering a chance for people of all ages, including children, to be creative with art, craft, and science, using recycled materials. So do drop in on Saturday 5th October between 10 am and 12 noon and see what you and your family can create out of the things we throw away!

When weather permits, some of us will be busy in our re-wilded garden area, leaving many plants to serve as vital cover for small creatures over the winter, but ensuring we have replenished our plant stocks and tended our new trees in hope of blossom and fruits next year. Perhaps at our Creationtide service we will have agreed some new plans for extending and diversifying our green space?

Finally, a 'must' for us all, rain or shine, is the St Andrew's Randoms' 'Come to the Cabaret' on the evening of Saturday 26th October starting at 7.30pm: an evening of songs from the musicals, favourite tunes, sketches, and stories. We're told to expect a surprise mystery guest or two! There will be a licensed bar and nibbles will be provided. Tickets are £5 from Lez.

SAVE A LIFE

Thanks to congregation donations and fund raising together with the support of the British Heart Foundation and AED Donate, St Andrew Redruth and St Euny have each obtained a public access defibrillator to be put in a prominent position outside their church which will be available 24/7 for anyone who needs it.

In order that the health benefit to the community of having this equipment is maximised we are holding two training events covering how to identify a heart attack, the proper use of CPR and when to use the defibrillator.

Many thanks to Mary Anson who has agreed to present these courses and also make her care home at Scorrier available as a venue.

The course is open to members of the congregation from all the team churches and anyone who uses our facilities.

The training courses will be held on Wednesday 3 October and Tuesday 15 October at 7pm at Crossroads.

Please email Mary Anson on maryanson@ansoncare.co.uk or telephone on 01209 211087 if you wish to attend. Those who have already expressed an interest, please let Mary know which of the dates you are able to attend.

It is important that you pre-book for this training course as spaces will be limited.

Friday 04 October—The Restless Wave by Sarah Meyrick

When Nell comes across an old envelope in a desk drawer, the discovery sets her on a path to uncover a secret dating back to the Second World War. Immensely empathetic, The Restless Wave contrasts the perspectives of Edward, born in Colonial India and later to serve as a military chaplain in the D Day Landings; Hope, a misfit who relinquishes Swinging London for the hippy trail, and Nell, a talented teacher in a deprived area of Oxford. Sarah Meyrick presents surprise after surprise as she explores the complexities of family dynamics. This engrossing novel, in which each generation tries to make sense of the world and the events of their time, reveals how greatly, if unconsciously, we all interact with and influence one another.

Friday 01 November - 'The Old Wives Tale' by Arnold Bennett

First published in 1908. It deals with the lives of two very different sisters, Constance and Sophia Baines, following their stories from their youth, working in their mother's draper's shop, into old age. It covers a period of about 70 years from roughly 1840 to 1905, and is set in Burslem and Paris. It is generally regarded as one of Bennett's finest works.

SUMMER HOLIDAY PROJECT 2019—DSBeenies

The Summer Holiday Project (SHP) within the Benefice of Redruth began in 2006 under the leadership of the youth project known as SEARCHLIGHT (Stephen/Euny/Andrew/Redruth/CHristchurch/Lanner/In God's Hands Together). The aim of the project was to provide activities through the six week school holiday and to show children and young people the love and care which God shows to us all.

After SEARCHLIGHT ended in 2012, the SHP came under the leadership of the newly formed DSBeenies, the youth division of an adult entertainment group, Don't Stop Believing. The DSBeenies have grown in strength and although not formally part of the church, meet on a Saturday afternoon at Christchurch, Lanner. The DSBeenies take as their strap-line FOLLOWING OUR DREAMS SO THAT OTHERS MAY REACH FOR THE STARS.

With that strap line in mind, the group raises funds for others through concerts, local activities, performances and donations. Since 2012 the young people have raised in excess of £15,000.00 for a wide range of charities and community groups. Their own funding comes from weekly subs, small grants and the generosity and kindness of others. They are especially grateful to the REDRUTH CHARITY TRUST who have supported the group year by year.

This year the SHP worked with 40 children and young people. There were six outings, a theatre week which performed an original piece called "Once upon a musical" which raised £500.00 for good causes, and an away week to St Ives for 22 young people. During this week, the young people paid £30.00 to have 30 fruit trees planted around the world.

The young people are now going into rehearsal for their fourth pantomime, "Aladdin" which will be performed in Porthleven at the end of December.

THANK YOU for all, your support, kindness and donations. You are welcome to come and meet the young people one Saturday ... but please check the Sunday sheet to make sure where they might be!!!!

A Descent to Local Mines

by Michael Tangye

Most indigenous Cornish families can speak of ancestors who were involved in mining throughout the world. This writer is told of having a paternal great grandfather and great uncle, miner small holders, who made the long journey to Michigan in the Victorian period, returning for a while to 'get the dust out of their lungs'. Similarly a great great maternal uncle who had left Pednandrea Mine in the 1850's, made the same journey to Michigan and became the underground production mine captain of the huge Calumet Hecla Mine, the largest in the State. The history of Cornish mining has always provided a source of study, both in Cornwall and overseas, for this writer - it is obviously in the genes! As boys, deserted engine-houses became castle fortresses in our play; we threw rocks down deep shafts listening to their noisy progress from level to level, and lit gorse fires in the tall chimneys to the shouts of 'The mines are working again!'

And so it was that in later life that I eagerly accepted the invitation to assist in judging an underground competition as South Crofty the First Aid Teams of Ireland, South Crofty, Wheal Jane and Geevor as a regular judge and competitor in the Redruth St John Ambulance competition team. A miner friend had taken me on an underground tour of South Crofty some time previously so that it was possible to see the dangerous working conditions, once not safeguarded, which existed in the past—sudden large drops to a lower mine level, the once choking fumes of blasting and thick abrasive dust particles from drilling, regular rock falls etc.

It was later that any member of the professional Cornwall Ambulance Service were invited to join, in a group to tour the depths of the other mines in Cornwall to make themselves familiar with the surroundings, in the event of being called to administer paramedic advanced skills to support any mine First Aid Team.

One of these was to Wheal Jane Mine near St Day, a visit which this writer recorded in his daily journal:-

'June 19th 1993 Went to Wheal Jane at 8.30am a really modern mine, so different to the other Cornish mines. Changed into boots, overalls, helmet with light and with a group of 16 went underground in the fast moving skip to the 700ft level. A wet mine, with its very wide and high levels, muddy and water-filled. We watched a pair of miners drilling at the end of the level and saw the vast drilling machine, costing £100,000, and the huge 'garage' with its inspection pit. We walked in the darkness along a rapidly declining route, the atmosphere becoming progressively hotter and more oppressive, as at South Crofty, even more so when huge machines with vast tyres passed, belching fumes like some great prehistoric monster—what would the miners of the past think!

Two miners sat at the end of the level, complaining of the great heat one eventually having to leave and go to grass (mine surface). Then down 40ft of narrow ladder to the 1100ft level, washing our hands in the warm water of a stream with iron oxide.

Passed the great pumping station here, one of several; the cost of pumping exceeds the labour bill each week—if it was a dry mine it would be exceedingly rich. We had walked underground as far as the old Nangiles Mine workings.

Coming up in the skip, which holds 40, I saw the fastly receding shaft through a gap in the floor. A shower in the 'dry', and then home to donate some blood before going to work at 11pm!

It was shortly after that this writer, as a paramedic, visited in the engine house at South Crofty with a colleague and the mine captain on three occasions, for casualties to be brought to the surface and there did his first infusion for blood loss.

<<Talkabout>> - Tree Hugging! © by Tricia Rowe

Have you ever hugged a tree, communed with nature? Others do, so what's in it for me? I chose a nice tree on the Helford River, a tall straight tree, not a gnarled twisted one, although there were plenty of them around! So I hugged it and it didn't respond, just stood straight and tall and somewhat distant! No one came along, luckily, and Dave looked as if I didn't belong to him! I probably won't repeat this but I've done it, got the proverbial T-shirt! However, on reflection I think I will save my hugs for Dave!!

So, I've hugged a tree, and I've also talked to the animals! Now, I am not an animal person so I only speak to them in extreme circumstances! We have been chased by dogs when we have been in their territory and while my heart is thumping and I am emitting a strong whiff of fear I try my Mrs. Nice Guy tactics...."Good dog; go home". I do this in my gentlest and friendliest voice so as not to aggravate the dog further. None of this works but it takes my mind off the panic bubbling up inside while we battle on through this terror zone and the barking retreats into the distance! Our daughter once gave us some dog biscuits to carry with us but the very time we were approached by a fearsome dog, the biscuits were in my rucksack so no use at all!

Sheep and I speak the same language, the odd "BAA" as we go through their field and we are both happy. Sheep, I love. Sheep are non-confrontational. I like them particularly when they are wearing their curly fleeces. They do look uncomfortable and embarrassed when they have just been shorn, almost as if they have been caught before they have had time to get dressed! But I wouldn't say "Moo" to a cow or "Boo" to a goose unless there was a gate between us!!

We have been chased by cows and horses in our time but these days we don't do that kind of wild walking so it's no problem. We know you have to steer clear of their back legs, but I am never sure how to deal with the front end!

So, apart from sheep, tree hugging seems the least hazardous! They don't bite and they don't kick but if you are caught hugging one you could lose your street cred!!
